In the best of times, it can be difficult to find creative ways to reach your customers and grow your business. Add a global pandemic to the equation and it can be downright overwhelming.

Over the past few weeks, we've received a lot of questions from local businesses on how to weather this storm and come out stronger on the other side. The questions vary, but all are looking for creative ideas. So we decided to tap into our powerful network of marketing minds to provide just that.

We invite you to join us every two weeks for a short conversation with a marketing expert who will address questions like:

- How do I generate revenue when my doors are closed?
- How can I ensure my brand authentically connects with people during this time?
- What advertising tactics will give me the most bang for my buck right now?

If you have questions you'd like one of our experts to address, we encourage you to submit it here so we can add it to our calendar of events.

To view the calendar and register for one or more of the webinars, please click the button below or at the top of this email.

You have questions. We're here to provide the deep expertise, trusted guidance, and creative ideas that will help you navigate these times, and beyond.

We hope you can join us!
